

Writing Prompts

When you are writing a story, remember to start with a sizzling start. Also remember there needs to be a boulder problem, then a series of events to solve it. There will be other problems along the way (pebbles and rocks), and then the boulder problem will be solved.

At the Skate Park

Writing Prompts Ideas

- A large crowd began to gather at the skate park...
- I was feeling so nervous, this was going to be my first skating competition...
- I leapt into the air...

Five Ws and One H

- Who is the character?
- Where is the character?
- When did the event take place?
- Why...
 - Why is the character there?
 - Why did this happen?
 - Did something cause this to happen?
- What...
 - What is happening?
 - Can you provide more detailed information?
- How...
 - How did the character get there?
 - How did the character get out of their situation?
 - How did this happen?
 - Can you provide more information to prove this?

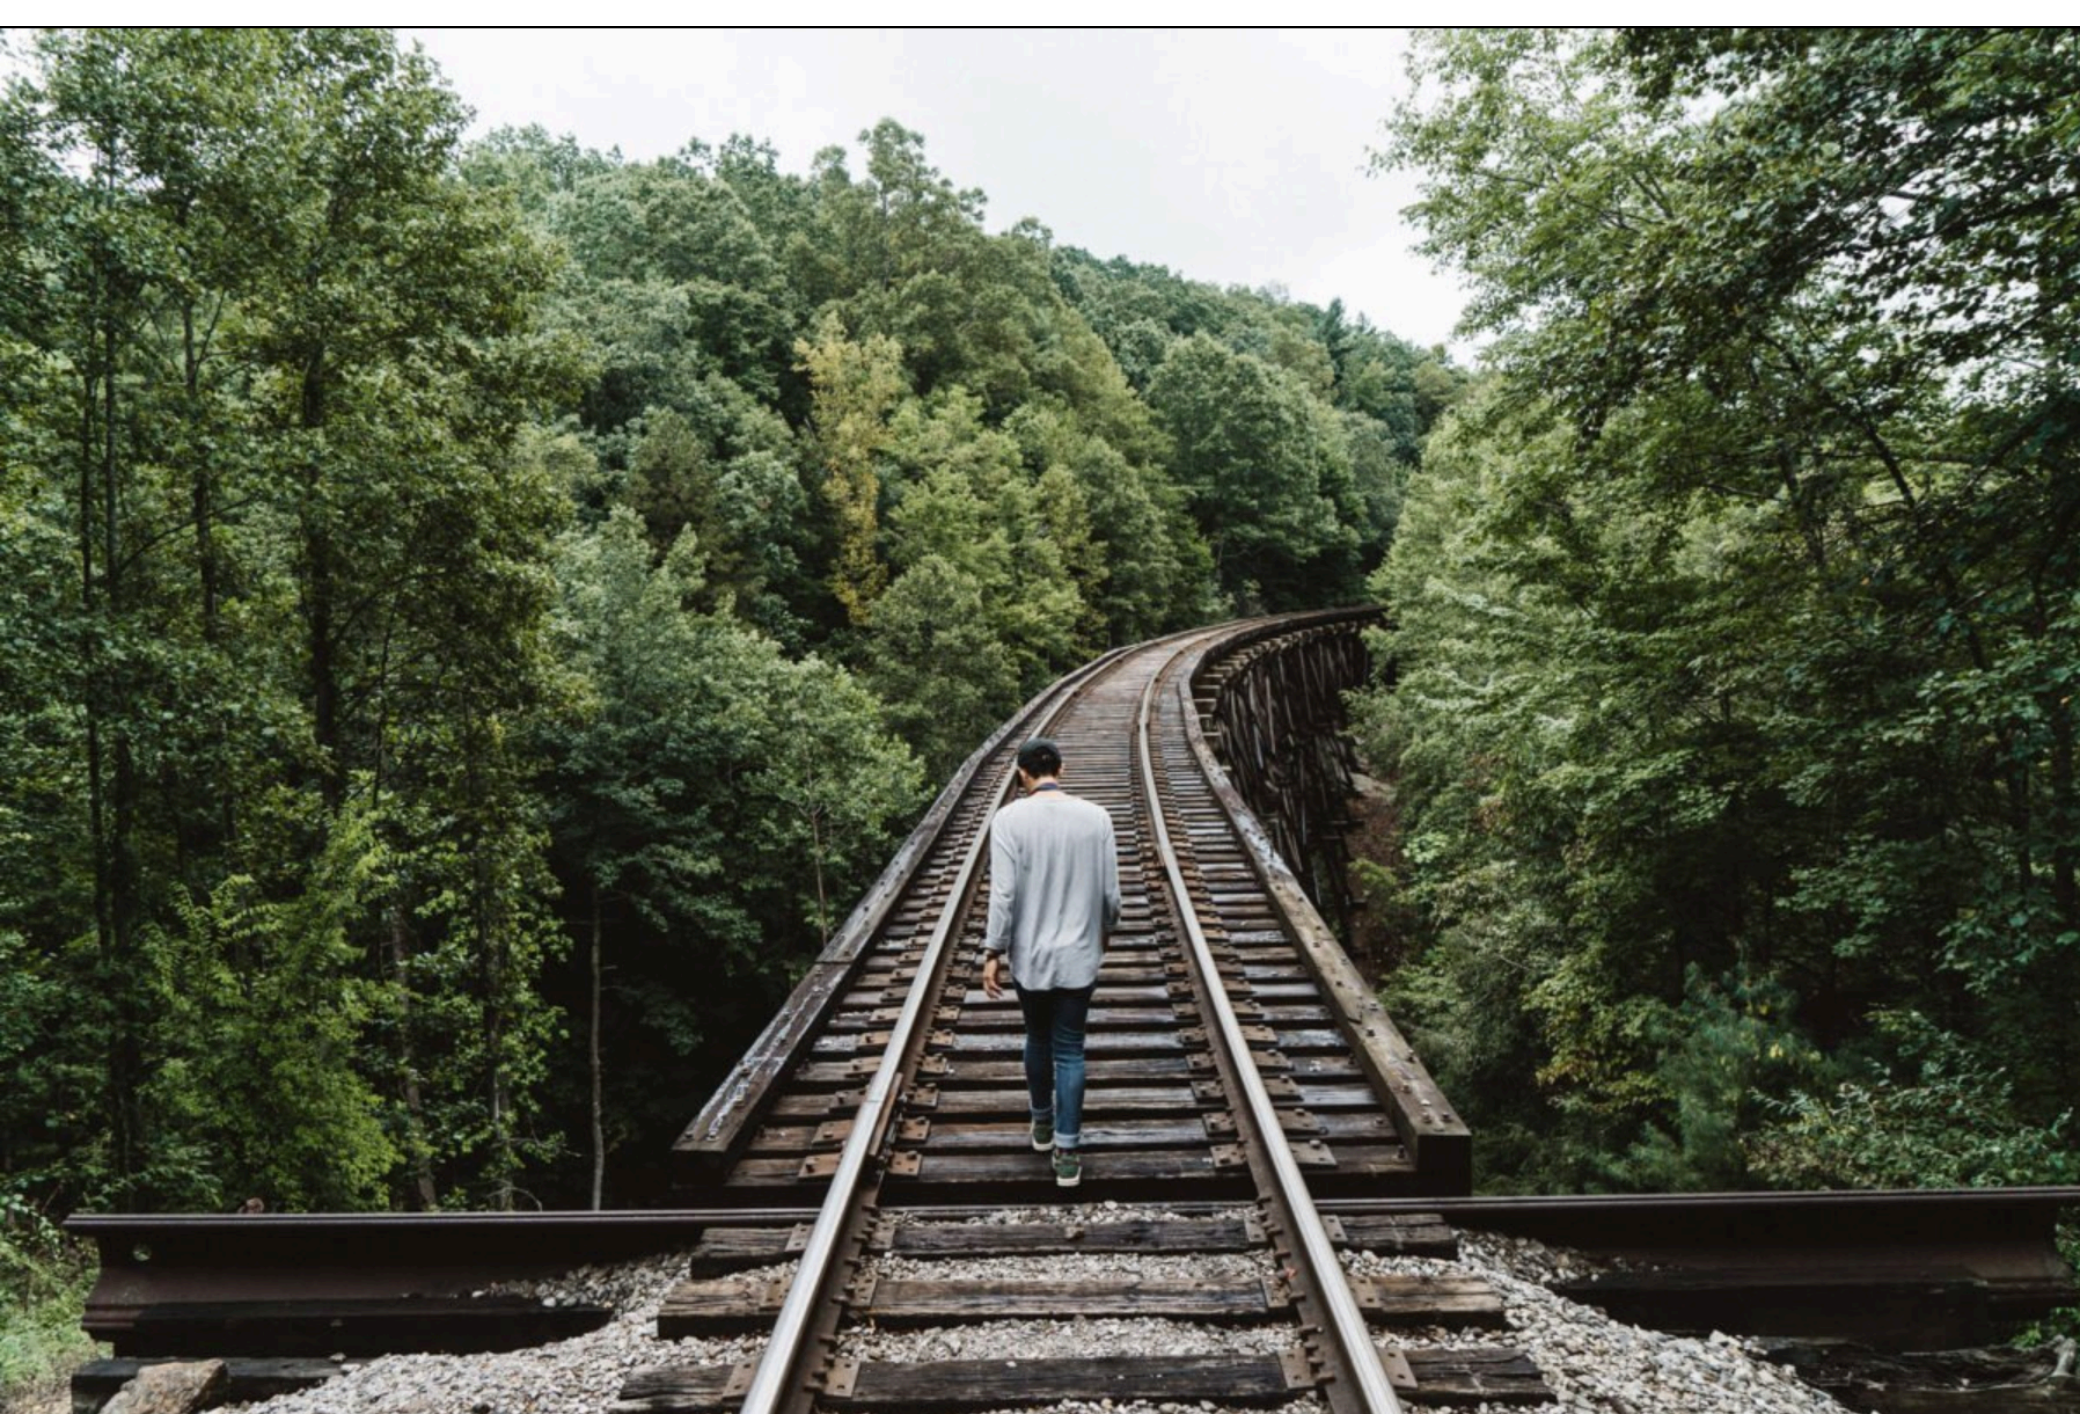

Compass

Writing Prompts Ideas

- I took my compass out of my pocket...
- I think we might be lost...
- We travelled south, as far as we could go...

Five Ws and One H

- Who is the character?
- Where is the character?
- When did the event take place?
- Why...
 - Why is the character there?
 - Why did this happen?
 - Did something cause this to happen?
- What...
 - What is happening?
 - Can you provide more detailed information?
- How...
 - How did the character get there?
 - How did the character get out of their situation?
 - How did this happen?
 - Can you provide more information to prove this?

Train Tracks

Writing Prompts Ideas

- Last night, I dreamt that I was walking along old wooden train tracks...
- I walked along the train tracks...
- I had finally found the magical train tracks that....

Five Ws and One H

- Who is the character?
- Where is the character?
- When did the event take place?
- Why...
 - Why is the character there?
 - Why did this happen?
 - Did something cause this to happen?
- What...
 - What is happening?
 - Can you provide more detailed information?
- How...
 - How did the character get there?
 - How did the character get out of their situation?
 - How did this happen?
 - Can you provide more information to prove this?

The Paddleboard

Writing Prompts Ideas

- The water was clear and calm...
- It was a beautiful day for paddleboarding, so...
- As we were paddling across the water, we saw...
- Every morning, my dog and I went for a paddle...

Five Ws and One H

- Who is the character?
- Where is the character?
- When did the event take place?
- Why...
 - Why is the character there?
 - Why did this happen?
 - Did something cause this to happen?
- What...
 - What is happening?
 - Can you provide more detailed information?
- How...
 - How did the character get there?
 - How did the character get out of their situation?
 - How did this happen?
 - Can you provide more information to prove this?